

Gardenplayers - Exchange with Theater for a sustainable food system

The Food System Online Congress aims to connect niche projects in Europe and to stimulate exchange - and so do we! We want to use theatre to stimulate all the senses and develop ideas together about food and sustainability.

In February we would like to meet you on three dates for 2 hours via Zoom, to exchange ideas about successful projects, ideas for solutions, and visions for the future of global sustainable nutrition. We will then create a short online performance that could be used as input at the congress.

Theatre opens playful aesthetic levels to express oneself about such complex topics, so that we are not merely talking heads on a screen. We are looking forward to meeting you!

The zoom meetings will take place on February 18th, 25th and March, 04th. Participation is limited to 15.

Elly Jarvis will lead the process. Elly has a Bachelors Degree in Acting and a Masters in Theater Education. She is a member of the theatre of the oppressed collective Madalenas and works as a freelance theatre maker in Berlin for her own projects as well as at ATZE Kindermusiktheater and the Deutsche Oper.

Foodjustice is an educational project which deals with the reasons and consequences of the global nutrition transition and advocates for a sustainable global food system.
