

food system change
online congress

Land cooperatives / foundations

Land cooperatives and land foundations provide land to farmers for cultivation by defined sustainability criteria. While land cooperatives finance the land through membership fees, land foundations do so through monetary or land donations.

- counteract land speculation by bypassing market dynamics of rapidly increasing land prices
- equalize opportunities: enabling small and start-up farmers to participate in land use
- sustainability criteria balance ecological and economic goals sustainability

potential

